See what it's really like!

For Immediate Release: Tuesday September 4th, 2018
Contact: Rebecca Bowker, 319-376-4842

Fort Madison, IA – Iowa State Penitentiary invites those considering a career in public safety to see what it's like to be a correctional officer.

During this unique event, guests will get in-depth information about the varied duties of a correctional officer. They will likely find out that it is challenging and rewarding to work with incarcerated individuals every day. They will speak to current staff that will give firsthand accounts of their work day.

In addition, attendees will speak to Human Resources about pay and benefits. Finally, guests will be able to tour the facility to see the environment first hand.

This opportunity will be held on Tuesday, October 2nd from 5 pm to 8 pm at Iowa State Penitentiary. It is easy to participate; those interested need to simply call 319-376-4842 to be placed on the list. There are a few qualifications; all participants must have their High School diploma or equivalent and be able to pass a background check.

Don't miss this unique opportunity to see what it is like to be a correctional officer! The deadline to be placed on the list is 09/25/2018. Call 319-376-4842 today for additional details.
